

Tour for directors reveals the business of Parliament

Wealden Business Group members and guests in Westminster Hall, the most historic of the Parliament buildings

With so many laws affecting businesses, 20 members and guests of the Wealden Business Group visited the Houses of Parliament to see where the legislation is framed.

Sponsored by Ashford MP Damian Green, the group enjoyed a 90-minute tour, including standing alongside the famous green leather benches in the Commons, visiting the voting lobbies, seeing a contemporary handwritten account of the arrest of Guy Fawkes and hearing a debate on financial law reform in the Lords.

The visit was part of Wealden Business Group's calendar of social activity which is arranged in addition to weekly networking breakfasts at The Little Silver Country Hotel, Tenterden, and a charity fundraising programme.
